SANSKRITI KHERA
Counseling Psychologist

BRIEF

She is a Counselling Psychologist with 6+years of experience working in hospital set ups & leading universities, catering to psychological difficulties faced by young adults. Her approach towards therapy is eclectic, which focuses on understanding one's developmental system which i.e., one's world view, their relationships, their coping mechanisms, and how they are shaped by their life experiences, socio-cultural narratives, and gender norms. She practices person-centred and narrative approach, providing queer friendly and trauma informed space.

TESTIMONIALS

"Overall it was amazing learning experience. I thoroughly enjoyed all the sessions. The sessions were very informative, interactive and engaging. It helped me in broadening my horizons about mental health and related aspects".

"It was extremely insightful as even the concepts that I thought I was thorough with, had some practical applications to it which I didn't know. It didn't feel like a monologue but more of a discussion between everyone which felt like a very safe space".
